Mr. William H. Jackson,
Box 1929,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Bill,

My friend and neighbor [] is looking for an opening in which he can be useful, and has asked me for an introduction in Washington. I am not presently sure who is in charge of personnel in the organization for which I worked during the last war, so I take the liberty of writing you.

I know nothing first-hand of his capabilities, but think him very much "the right type". Would you be good enough to put his name in proper channels and see that he is invited for an interview at least? [] will reach him.

STAT

Ruthie and I are off tomorrow for a few weeks vacation in Canada. Can we hope that you still visit [] occasionally and might have time this spring to call us when you do?

ST

With best regards,
